January 31, 2002 LB 824

want my time to keep running. Mr. President, members of the Legislature, what I was saying about "Galileo" Brashear or Kermit "Galilei", whichever he prefers, he is on the rack right now. And for those of you who don't know how the rack works, and there are different forms of it, some call it the wheel. They will have two posts that are secured to the ground. One of your ankles is secured to each post and you are laid over a wheel with your back to the wheel. Your arms are extended over your head and your wrists are secured, and the other end of the rope securing your wrists will be attached to spokes in the wheel on the far side of the wheel. Then, as a person turns the wheel, it's just like rolling up a piece of string, except you're the string. So as they turn the wheel, the more they turn it the harder it becomes to turn it. You need a strong guy to do this, Senator Aguilar. You probably couldn't do it, and I wouldn't do it, so everybody would be safe from the wheel. But, at any rate, as they turn that wheel then your tendons, your ligaments stretch, your muscles stretch, they may break loose from the point where they attach to a bone. Your joints begin to dislocate, and if you really believe in what it is you say you believe, then you tell them, do your worst but I wish you wouldn't. And they know...they knew how to do their worst. But Galileo wanted to live because he felt there was additional work he could do, in the same way that Senator Brashear, Kermit "Galilei" wants to live, and that's spelled G-a-l...G-a-l-i-l-e-i. Kermit "Galilei" wants to live, so he has got to deny what his logical mind tells him is the truth. He knows that if we're going to call a substance, an organism, whatever it is, if we're going to say it is alive, then it is alive whether it's in location "A" or location "B". If all of the criteria that constitute life are present, item "A" is alive, item "B" is alive. If being conceived as a result of the sperm from a human male fertilizing the egg of a human female makes a human being, whenever and wherever that fertilization takes place, you have a human being. The circumstances under which the conception takes place is not what determines whether you're a human being. The location of where that fertilized egg finds itself is not what makes you a human being. What Senator Brashear knows is that it is the genetic makeup that determines whether one is a human being. What some people don't realize is that a chimpanzee genetically is closer to a human being than a
